

CASE STUDY

Vistra and Helios: Partners for the long term

Vistra has been Helios's Corporate Service Provider of choice since 2004. Today, Vistra is Helios's go-to service provider for corporate SPV work in Europe with mandates across five countries, including Luxembourg, UK, the Netherlands, Germany and Guernsey, managing funds valued at £3.6 billion.

The challenge

With ambitions to expand across multiple jurisdictions Helios Investment Partners needed a partner who could provide an expert team in each market so they could focus on their business strategy but with the peace of mind that they were compliant with local rules and regulations.

Maintaining ongoing operations without disruption was also vital to Helios. With a diverse LP base comprising a broad range of the world's leading investors and development finance institutions across the US, Europe, Asia and Africa, Helios's challenge was to find a corporate service provider who could provide the critical knowledge and back-office resource – freeing its people to concentrate on developing its deep operational portfolio capability.

Vistra's solution

Partnered with Helios for more than 15 years, Vistra's extensive private equity and funds knowledge is integral to Helios' operations. Our innovative solutions and ability to respond quickly across multiple jurisdictions have helped take this partnership from strength to strength. Vistra's relationship with Helios started in Luxembourg and has over the last fifteen years expanded into five Vistra jurisdictions.

Working in tandem with the Helios senior investment managers and the financial team, we reduce complexity, freeing up valuable management time, enabling Helios to focus on managing their clients' investments.

HELIOS Investment
Partners

Founded in 2004 by Tope Lawani and Babatunde Soyoye, Helios Investment Partners is the largest Africa-focused private investment firm, with a record that spans creating start-ups to providing established companies with growth capital and expertise.
